

Traveling the world with your Brenham National Bank Discover® Debit card

Important information to know when using your card internationally

Using your Brenham National Bank Discover® Debit card for international travel

You can use your Brenham National Bank Discover® Debit card when traveling abroad, but there are some important things to know. Discover operates all over the world and should work in most countries you visit. Be sure to keep an eye out for the Discover and Diners Club International acceptance mark. And to ensure you can make the purchases you want to while traveling, read the tips to the right.

Look for these logos while traveling:

Your Brenham National Bank Discover Debit card can be used at many merchants and ATMs that display the Discover and Diners Club International® acceptance marks. Not all merchants display signage, so please try your card wherever you go.

TIP: Always carry a second form of payment

Debit cards can be an easy way to make purchases and access cash while traveling abroad. We recommend that you take multiple payment options with you.

Many storefronts and restaurants abroad don't accept credit or debit cards so you'll need to make sure that you always carry cash.

TIP: Be sure to let your bank know before you travel.

Many financial institutions monitor your accounts for suspicious activity. Purchases from an unusual location can sometimes signal potential fraud, resulting in a fraud alert that temporarily "freezes" your ability to use your card until you can contact your issuer to verify the purchase.

To help avoid an inconvenient disruption, alert your card issuers and financial institutions of your travel plans before you depart.

What should I do if my Brenham National Bank Discover® Debit card is lost or stolen while traveling abroad?

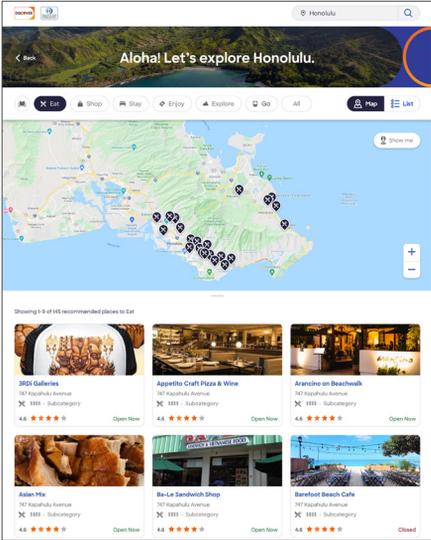

If your card is lost or stolen while outside of the United States, immediately contact your bank who issued you your card.
